

B e e s

Wild bees do not produce honey or live in colonies. Instead they live solitary lives and make their homes in wood, soil or under rocks or leaves. They collect nectar and pollen from flowers and can be 80 times better pollinators than honeybees.

