

Butterflies

The Mourning Cloak butterfly can be found across Canada. It hibernates as an adult butterfly in the winter, living in logs and loose bark. It feeds on sap from trees.

